

FAITH

The Vermont Slauson Economic Development Corporation (VSEDC) invites the faith-based community to strengthen communities through a FREE real estate development course that paves the way to economic power.

Friday, February 16, 2018 | 9:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m.
South Los Angeles, California

In partnership with the USC Cecil Murray Center for Community Engagement, the course addresses the unique needs of South Los Angeles.

VSEDC encourages leaders from all denominations to learn how to leverage real estate investments for the greater good of their congregations and the community by learning how to:

- Develop property to maximize residential and commercial opportunities for social impact
- Effectively manage properties
- Enhance church's non-profit arm to address the needs of the congregation and community
- Access capital and diverse types of funding

Tap into your economic power and impact the lives of your members.

Space is limited. Candidates must submit an assessment by January 29th.

Attendees will be notified by e-mail of their acceptance along with the workshop address.

If you lead a church or congregation and have questions, please contact us at:
